COLOSTRUM WORKS

Scores of scientific studies prove that colostrum's nutrients support healthy immune functioning. The active nutrient is Proline-rich Polypeptide (PRP). In addition to providing immune system support, PRP also contributes to the growth of cells.

As people age, the level of PRP in their bodies decline, reducing the body's natural ability to protect itself and promote healthy cell growth.

Isamune delivers these essential nutrients to help the immune system function at its most efficient level.
